

John H. Schnatter Institute for the Study of Free Enterprise

BB&T Program for the Study of Capitalism

What's Next for Kentucky Schools?

The Outlook for K-12 under President Trump

President Trump recently called education “the civil rights issue of our time” and campaigned for a $20 billion school choice program. The John H. Schnatter Institute for the Study of Free Enterprise has assembled an expert panel of academics and policymakers to explore the challenges facing our K-12 schools in Kentucky. UK scholars from the Gatton College of Business and Economics, Martin School of Public Policy, College of Education, and the Kentucky Education & Workforce Development Cabinet will debate on school choice, vouchers, and charter schools.

Thursday, March 30, 2017

4:30 p.m.

Woodward Hall (Room 307)

Gatton College of Business and Economics

Click to RSVP

Ron Zimmer

Professor and Director,
Martin School of Public Policy and Administration,
University of Kentucky

Wayne D. Lewis, Jr.

Executive Director of Education Policy
& Programs in the Kentucky Education & Workforce Development Cabinet, and Associate Professor of Educational Leadership, College of Education,
University of Kentucky

Joseph Waddington

Assistant Professor,
College of Education,
University of Kentucky

John Garen

BB&T Professor and Director,
John H. Schnatter Institute for
the Study of Free Enterprise,
Gatton College of Business and Economics, University of Kentucky